2 THE COURT: Thank you. Be seated.

3 We are before the Court this afternoon in the matter
4 of United States of America versus Leanna Heskett.

5 This is case 16CR43. And we are here for the 6 purposes this afternoon for the Court to entertain a 7 plea of no contest by Ms. Heskett.

8 Would counsel enter their appearances for 9 the record, please?

10 MR. PATEL: Good afternoon, Your 11 Honor. Vipal Patel for the United States.

12 MR. ANDERSON: Good afternoon, Your 13 Honor. Thomas Anderson appearing on behalf of 14 Ms. Heskett. Ms. Heskett injured her foot sometime 15 ago. With the Court's permission if she may remain 16 seated she might have difficulty standing for the 17 duration of the hearing.

18 THE COURT: She can remain seated. I
19 need when you are referred to Ms. Heskett and I am 20 asking you to respond, please try to keep your voice 21 up so we can all hear you. Okay.

22 THE DEFENDANT: Okay.

23 MR. ANDERSON: Thank you, Judge.

24 THE COURT: Again, of course, the 25 taking of this no contest plea is within the

1 discretion of the Court. The Government's position
2 however is, Mr. Patel?

3 MR. PATEL: Your Honor, we object and 4 oppose to the Court taking of a no contest plea in 5 this case. The reasons are multiple. No contest
6 pleas are, of course, rare. Should be used 7 sparingly. The times where they have been used are 8 instances typically in run of the mill white collar 9 cases, which this admittedly is. But where there are 10 concerns over the consequence of the guilty plea in 11 collateral litigation, such as a pending civil 12 lawsuit or something of that sort. While there has 13 been threatened civil litigation, there is no actual 14 civil lawsuit happening.

15 And for that reason as well as for the 16 appearance of justice for all of the reasons set 17 forth in the United States Attorney Manual that 18 governs the Department of Justice's position when 19 dealing with no contest pleas, the Government 20 opposes.

21 THE COURT: All right. Thank you.
22 Anything, Mr. Anderson?

23 MR. ANDERSON: Judge, thank you I
24 will be brief. We met in chambers. We have put on 25 the record in chambers the reason for Ms. Heskett's

1 desire to enter this plea. We ask the Court to 2 accept this guilty plea.

3 THE COURT: No contest plea.

4 MR. ANDERSON: Excuse me. No contest
5 plea. Judge, while Mr. Patel at this time there is 6 no formal action pending. That action is still in 7 the administrative phases. There has been an 8 attorney consulted. I have had conversations that I 9 can proffer to the Court that it was the advice of 10 this civil attorney that Ms. Heskett explore the 11 possibility of asking the Court to allow her to plead 12 no contest in this matter.

13 From a practical pragmatic standpoint the 14 nature of the case is such that at the disposition
15 phase should the Court indeed find Ms. Heskett guilty 16 there would be virtually absolutely no difference
17 between the taking of a no contest plea or a guilty
18 plea with respect to the applicable sentencing 19 guidelines or the range of sentences available to the 20 Court. Thank you.

21 THE COURT: Well, the Court agrees
22 with the Government that it should be extremely rare
23 and sparingly used. The Court would indicate that no 24 one should take the Court's election here in its 25 discretion to consider this no contest plea a

1 precedent but the Court has decided based upon all of 2 the information that has been provided to the Court
3 to entertain a no contest plea in this the matter.
4 So, everyone ready to proceed then?

5 MR. PATEL: Yes, Your Honor.

6 MR. ANDERSON: Yes, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: It is my understanding
8 that Ms. Heskett will be pleading to Count 1 of the 9 indictment which alleges delay or destruction of 10 mail, a violation of 18 United States Code 1703(A).
11 Mr. Patel, is that correct?

12 MR. PATEL: That is, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: And, Mr. Anderson,
14 Ms. Heskett understands the charge against her and 15 you believe she is ready to go forward with her plea?

16 MR. ANDERSON: Yes, Your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Is that correct, Ms.
18 Heskett, you ready to go forward?

19 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

20 THE COURT: In order for me to 21 consider your plea of no contest the Court has to ask 22 you a number of questions. Those questions must be 23 asked of you while you are under oath. The oath is 24 to assume that your responses are truthful and 25 complete. However, I also need to indicate to you

1 that once you take the oath you could be prosecuted 2 for perjury or false swearing if your answers were 3 not truthful. You understand that?

4 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

5 THE COURT: Understanding that do you
6 still wish to go forward with your plea of no
7 contest?

8 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

9 THE COURT: I would also indicate to 10 you that the Court would entertain and if the Court
11 does accept your plea of no contest then the Court
12 would make a determination of guilt or innocence 13 based upon a factual statement that will be read upon 14 the record by the Government to which by a plea of no 15 contest you are not contesting. And, of course, the 16 Court then would make a determination of guilt or 17 innocence based solely upon that statement of facts.
18 Do you understand?

19 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

20 THE COURT: Understanding that, do
21 you still wish to go forward with your plea of no
22 contest?

23 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

24 THE COURT: Would you please raise 25 your right-hand?

1 (Swearing in the Defendant)

2 THE COURT: All right. Why don't we 3 start, Ms. Heskett, can you please state your full 4 name for the record?

5 THE DEFENDANT: Leanna Marie Heskett.

6 THE COURT: Ms. Heskett, how old are 7 you?

8 THE DEFENDANT: Forty-seven.

9 THE COURT: And can you tell me the 10 year that you were born?

11 THE DEFENDANT: 1969.

12 THE COURT: And how far in school did 13 you go?

14 THE DEFENDANT: I graduated.

15 THE COURT: Where from?

16 THE DEFENDANT: Springfield South
17 High.

18 THE COURT: And after you graduated
19 from Springfield South High did you do anything 20 further, any other educational endeavors such as 21 college, technical school, vocational schools of any 22 type. Anything like that?

23 THE DEFENDANT: I tried one but I
24 couldn't catch onto the typing.

25 THE COURT: But you did graduate from

1 high school from Springfield South. When was that?
2 What was your graduating year?

3 THE DEFENDANT: 1988.

4 THE COURT: All right. Well let me
5 ask you this. Do you have any difficulty in 6 understanding, reading or writing the English 7 language?

8 THE DEFENDANT: No.

9 THE COURT: Do you have any 10 difficulty in communicating with or understanding 11 Mr. Anderson in the discussions about your case?

12 THE DEFENDANT: No.

13 THE COURT: About the charges against 14 you?

15 THE DEFENDANT: No.

16 THE COURT: About the facts that you
17 believe or that Mr. Anderson has reviewed and talked 18 with you about to which are being alleged against 19 you? Do you have any questions about the facts?

20 THE DEFENDANT: Oh, no.

21 THE COURT: Now, you have reviewed
22 with Mr. Anderson a number of documents. One is that 23 factual statement that we talked about that we are 24 going to talk about in a little while. But the other 25 document that is very important is that indictment.

1 The indictment is the document that has been returned 2 by the grand jury of this district indicating or 3 charging you with a number of counts. And 4 specifically we are dealing here today with Count 1
5 of that indictment. You have reviewed the indictment 6 against you with Mr. Anderson's help and after that 7 review, do you believe that you fully understand what 8 is alleged against you in Count 1 of the indictment?

9 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

10 THE COURT: Do you have any questions
11 or concerns about the charge against you in Count 1 12 at this time?

13 THE DEFENDANT: No.

14 THE COURT: All right. It is not 15 only important that you, of course, understand what 16 is going on here and you understood what Mr. Anderson 17 has talked with you about in preparation for this 18 hearing and understand what is going on here in the 19 hearing. As I indicated it is important that you 20 understand what the charge is against you to which 21 you are pleading no contest.

22 But also it is very important that you 23 understand the facts that are alleged against you in 24 this plea of no contest. Because again that factual
25 statement will be the statement upon which this Court

1 will base its determination of guilt or innocence.

2 You understand that?

3 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

4 THE COURT: And you have indicated
5 that you have reviewed that statement with 6 Mr. Anderson prior to this hearing. Is that correct?

7 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

8 THE COURT: And you have indicated
9 that your questions and concerns about that factual 10 statement, if any, have been answered and addressed.
11 Is that correct?

12 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

13 THE COURT: And you fully understand
14 the facts that are being alleged against you?

15 THE DEFENDANT: Yea.

16 THE COURT: Well, what I would like
17 to do is acknowledge that. And I am going to do it 18 in this manner. I am going to have Mr. Patel, 19 although it is a lengthy read, I am going to have him
20 read those two pages. I want you to listen carefully 21 as he reads them. You may have a copy of the factual
22 statement there in front of you. You can follow 23 right along with him.

24 Once he is done reading. I am going to ask
25 you the following questions. I am going to ask you

1 whether you understood the facts. Whether you have 2 any questions about what he read. Are those the 3 facts to which you wish to enter a no contest plea.
4 You understand?

5 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

6 THE COURT: All right. And then we 7 can acknowledge then, what I am going to do is have 8 you execute along with Mr. Anderson and Mr. Patel 9 that factual statement so we all understand we are on 10 the same page here. Okay?

11 THE DEFENDANT: Okay.

12 THE COURT: Mr. Patel, if you would,
13 please?

14 MR. PATEL: Thank you, Your Honor.
15 Were this case to go to trial and the Government were 16 to prove each and every element of the counts charged 17 in the indictment, including Count 1. The proof 18 would include evidence of the following facts.

19 And they are as follows: The Defendant,
20 Leanna Heskett was employed by the United States 21 postal service as a mail processing clerk from 22 October 1998 until November 3, 2015 when she was 23 terminated due in part to her theft of mail as 24 described herein.

25 Her primary place of employment was the

1 Springfield, Ohio post office withing the Southern 2 District of Ohio. As a mail processing clerk
3 Heskett's job duties included sorting and processing
4 mail for Zones 5 and 6 of the Springfield, Ohio area 5 which includes the 45505 and 45506 zip codes. She 6 would assist with sorting mail for other zones as 7 needed. She often wore sweatpants and an apron with 8 front pockets to work.

9 On or about February of 2014 and continuing 10 to June of 2015 the United States Postal Service 11 Office of Inspector General received information from 12 the United States Postal Service that customers in 13 the 45505, 45506 and other zip codes had been 14 complaining about mail not being delivered.

15 The United States Postal Service Office of 16 Inspector General investigated and determined that 17 Heskett had been opening and stealing mail during the 18 mail sorting process at the Springfield, Ohio Post 19 Office.

20 Specifically between an exact beginning 21 date unknown but at least on or about May 2015 and on 22 or about June 10, 2015 within the Southern District
23 of Ohio Heskett secreted, destroyed, contained, 24 delayed, and opened letters packages and other mail 25 which had come into her possession and which were

1 intended to be conveyed by mail and carried and 2 delivered by a United States Postal Service Carrier
3 or other United States Postal Service Employee.

4 For instance at the Springfield, Ohio Post
5 Office, during the mail sorting process, Heskett 6 secreted, destroyed, detained, delayed or opened the 7 following mail.

8 A. On May 5, 2015 Heskett placed mail
9 packages into her pants on two separate occasions,
10 totaling at least two packages during this work day.
11 On at least one occasion after placing the packages 12 in her pants she left the area for at least nine 13 minutes. That is the factual basis the Government 14 would prove specifically as to Count 1 to which I 15 understand the Defendant is pleading no contest.

16 In addition the Government at trial would 17 prove these facts as well.

18 B. On May 6th, 2015 Heskett placed at 19 least one mail package in her pants.

20 C. On May 7th, 2015, Heskett opened a 21 mail package, looked at what was inside, closed the 22 package and placed it back into the mail stream.

23 D. On May 8th, 2015, Heskett placed mail
24 packages into her pants on five separate occasions
25 totaling at least eight packages during this work

1 day. She left the area for several minutes each
2 time.

3 E. On May 13, 2015 Heskett opened at least 4 one mail package, placed the contents inside the 5 front of her pants and then resealed the package with 6 tape.

7 F. On May 15th, 2015, Heskett placed a
8 mail package in her pants. She then left the area 9 for approximately 20 minutes.

10 G. On May 16th, 2015 Heskett opened at 11 least one mail package and then placed an item in her 12 shirt.

13 H. On May 19th, 2015 Heskett placed mail
14 packages into her pants on five separate occasions
15 totaling at least seven packages during this work 16 day. She also opened at least three packages and 17 resealed at least one.

18 I. On May 20th, 2015 Ms. Heskett placed 19 mail packages into her pants on three separate 20 occasions totaling at least three packages during 21 this work day. She also opened at least one package, 22 removed the contents and then resealed the package.

23 J. On May 21, 2015 Ms. Heskett placed at 24 least one mail package into her pants. She also 25 opened at least four packages and resealed at least

1 one.

2 K. On May 22, 2015 Heskett placed at least 3 one mail package in her pants and and one package down
4 her shirt. She also opened at least two packages.

5 L. On May 27th, 2015 Heskett placed mail
6 packages into her pants on two separate occasions
7 totaling at least two packages during this work day.

8 M. On May 28th, 2015 Heskett placed mail
9 packages into her pants on five separate occasions,
10 totaling at least five packages during this work day.

11 N. On May 29th, 2015 Heskett placed mail
12 packages into her pants on two separate occasions
13 totaling at least two packages during this work day.
14 She's also opened a package, shook out the contents 15 then resealed the box.

16 O. On May 30, 2015, Heskett placed mail
17 packages into her pants on three separate occasions
18 totaling at least four packages during this week day.
19 She also opened two packages and then resealed at 20 least two packages.

21 P. On June 1, 2015 Heskett opened a mail
22 package took the contents from the package and placed 23 it in her pants and then resealed the package.

24 Q. On June 2, 2015 Heskett placed mail
25 packages into her pants on three separate occasions

1 totaling at least three packages during this work 2 day.

3 R. On June 3, 2015 Heskett placed at least 4 one mail package into her pants.

5 S. On June 4, 2015 Heskett placed at least 6 one mail package into her pants. She also opened at 7 least three packages and resealed at least one 8 package.

9 T. On June 5, 2015 Heskett placed mail
10 packages into her pants on five separate occasions,
11 totaling at least five packages during this work day.

12 U. On June 9, 2015 Heskett placed mail
13 packages into her pants on two separate occasions
14 totaling at least two packages during this work day.
15 She also opened at least one package from that same 16 cart.

17 And V. On June 10, 2015, Heskett placed at 18 least one item from a mail package into her pants.

19 All of the mail mentioned herein had come 20 into her possession during the mail sorting process at 21 the Springfield, Ohio post office. And they were 22 intended to be conveyed by mail and carried and 23 delivered by the U.S. Postal Service mail carrier or 24 other United States Postal Service employee.

25 Heskett however opened the mail before

1 delivery, opened the mail and stole the contents 2 thereof before delivery of the remants or stole the 3 mail in its entirety.

4 Your Honor, the proof at trial would also 5 include surveillance footage, which would have 6 depicted all the instances that I just read when I 7 gave a date and a description of what occurred.

8 There also would have been testimony from a
9 former colleague of Ms. Heskett who received a call 10 from Ms. Heskett after she had been interviewed by the 11 postal inspectors and made a comment to the colleague 12 to the affect of: They caught me, or words to that 13 affect.

14 Thank you, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: All right. Thank you.
16 Mr. Patel, with regard to the reading of the facts
17 the inquiry that the Court will have of Ms. Heskett 18 is whether or not she wishes to plead no contest to 19 the reading of those facts as relevant to the 20 incident that occurred on May 5th. I am assuming 21 that is where we are at?

22 MR. PATEL: Well, Your Honor, she is 23 pleading no contest to the charge in the indictment.
24 As to the statement of facts I believe Your Honor is 25 free to ask her: Are those facts true? Not just the

1 May 5 ones but all of them. And if she wishes to 2 decline them I am sure the Court can take that into 3 account at sentencing when it assesses whether she 4 has accepted responsibility.

5 MR. ANDERSON: Your Honor, thank you.
6 Pursuant to the agreement Ms. Heskett at this time
7 would enter a no contest plea to all of the facts
8 that were read by Mr. Patel. Specifically including 9 those facts that pertain to the count in the 10 indictment to which the formal no contest plea would 11 be entered.

12 THE COURT: All right. That is your 13 understanding, Mr. Patel?

14 MR. PATEL: I don't know how to 15 answer that, Your Honor. Counsel prefaced his 16 comments saying pursuant to the agreement. There is 17 no agreement for point of clarification and I believe 18 she is free to enter a no contest plea as well as not 19 to contest --

20 THE COURT: So, other than what 21 Mr. Anderson stated, other than Mr. Anderson's 22 initial statement pursuant to an agreement, you are 23 in agreement with what Mr. Anderson stated that she 24 wishes to enter a no contest plea to the entire 25 factual statement that has been read.

1 MR. ANDERSON: That is correct, Your 2 Honor.

3 MR. PATEL: That is my understanding
4 of what she is doing.

5 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.
6 Ms. Heskett, do understand what Mr. Patel read onto 7 the record?

8 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

9 THE COURT: Do you have any questions
10 about about any of those facts that are being 11 alleged?

12 THE DEFENDANT: No.

13 THE COURT: Are those the facts to 14 which you wish to enter a plea of no contest to?

15 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

16 THE COURT: All right. That is the 17 extent of my questioning, Mr. Patel. Since we are 18 not doing a guilty plea I am not going to ask the 19 fourth question.

20 MR. PATEL: I understand, Your Honor.

21 THE COURT: All right. Well to 22 acknowledge Ms. Heskett's plea of no contest to the 23 statement of facts or acceptance of those statement 24 of facts as the facts to which she wishes to enter a 25 no contest plea, I would ask that we, as we usually

1 do, acknowledge her acceptance of those facts as the 2 facts to which she is pleading no contest by having 3 her initial the bottom of page one and two. I would 4 also ask that Mr. Anderson and Mr. Patel also initial 5 the bottom of those pages.

6 MR. ANDERSON: That has been 7 executed, Your Honor.

8 THE COURT: Ms. Heskett, it is 9 important not only that you understand, of course,
10 the charge against you to which you are entering a no 11 contest plea to and the facts to which you are 12 pleading no contest to. It is also important in 13 order that this plea of no contest be accepted that I 14 am fully aware and I do understand that you are aware 15 of several other things. And one of those things is 16 disposition. That means that, as I indicated to you,
17 once you enter a no contest plea and the Court
18 accepts that no contest plea, the Court will make a 19 determination of your guilt or innocence based solely 20 upon the facts that have just been read upon the 21 record.

22 Now, if the Court returns a verdict of 23 guilty based upon your no contest plea and those 24 facts, then the Court needs to assure itself that you 25 understand in entering this no contest plea, you

1 understand what possibly can happen if the Court
2 makes a finding of guilty. Do you understand?

3 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

4 THE COURT: So, we are going to talk
5 about disposition a little bit. We are going to talk
6 about what possibly could happen. I am not saying it
7 is happening. I am saying I have got to tell you 8 everything that could happen.

9 THE DEFENDANT: Okay.

10 THE COURT: Let's talk a little bit
11 about, one, the maximum penalties that the Court
12 could impose. It is my understanding that by a plea 13 to this count of the indictment, Count 1 of the 14 indictment, that is punishable by a maximum of up to 15 five years of incarceration. Is that your 16 understanding?

17 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

18 THE COURT: And you have any 19 questions about that?

20 THE DEFENDANT: No.

21 THE COURT: If the Court elected to 22 impose a fine for this offense, the Court could fine 23 you up to $250,000. Is that your understanding?

24 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

25 THE COURT: Do you have any questions

1 about that?

2 THE DEFENDANT: No.

3 THE COURT: It is also my
4 understanding, correct me if I am wrong, Mr. Patel it 5 is my understanding supervised release could be 6 anywhere from three years to life. Is that correct?
7 I didn't think so. I am reading a note. I was 8 wondering.

9 MR. PATEL: Maximum of three years.

10 THE COURT: Maximum of three years.
11 Supervised release, Ms. Heskett, is a term that is 12 used to describe a time of supervision. If an 13 individual is incarcerated, once they get out then 14 they are placed under supervision, meaning that they 15 have got to abide by rules and regulations and 16 conditions. They are supervised by the Court. If 17 they violate one of those conditions or rules or 18 regulations the Court could impose sanctions. I
19 could make rules stricter. I could add rules. I 20 could do all sorts of modifications to that status.

21 I could also revoke that status and impose
22 a term of re-incarceration. Do you understand?

23 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

24 THE COURT: And in your situation, if 25 the Court finds you guilty based upon your no contest

1 plea of this Count 1 the Court could impose up to 2 those maximums. Do you understand that?

3 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

4 THE COURT: Do you have any questions
5 about any of those?

6 THE DEFENDANT: No.

7 THE COURT: The only other thing that 8 I would. Well, two other things. One I would 9 indicate to you that there is a mandatory special 10 assessment with regard to Count 1 of this indictment.
11 It is a $100.00 special assessment. That is not like 12 a fine which I can impose or not impose, that must be 13 imposed. It is mandatory and it must be imposed upon 14 you. So there is a $100.00 special assessment that 15 must be imposed. Do you understand?

16 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

17 THE COURT: Any questions about that?

18 THE DEFENDANT: No.

19 THE COURT: All right. The other
20 thing that I would indicate to you is that if 21 restitution is something that is part of this case 22 the Court could and would order restitution if 23 appropriate. Do you understand?

24 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

25 THE COURT: Okay. Do you have any

1 questions about those maximum sanctions or penalties
2 that could be imposed?

3 THE DEFENDANT: No.

4 THE COURT: You must understand those 5 are maximums. The Court hasn't gone there yet. I
6 have a lot of discretion. But it is important for me 7 to understand that you understand what possibly can 8 happen. So, do you have any questions about those 9 things?

10 THE DEFENDANT: No.

11 THE COURT: All right. Well, then
12 let's talk about another aspect of disposition. It 13 is not only important if you are found guilty to 14 understand what possibly can happen, but I need to 15 also tell you how I arrive at a sentence or sanction 16 or dispositions. And it is fairly simple to 17 understand. But I am going to run through these and 18 make sure that you understand what the Court would be 19 doing if I accept your no contest plea and then make 20 a finding of guilty refer this matter for a
21 disposition.

22 The first thing that I look at, Ms. Heskett 23 is I try to find out everything that I can about the 24 case. They call that the nature and circumstance of 25 the case. It is important for me to impose an

1 appropriate or a just sentence. And the only way to 2 do that is if I know as much about what happened here 3 as I can find out. I also need to know as much as 4 about you as I can. Obviously I need to know what 5 happened, who you are and how this all occurred.

6 Once I look at that then I look at the 7 types of sentences that are available to me. Again 8 we have already reviewed the maximum penalties that 9 the Court could impose for this count. The Court has 10 a lot of discretion below the maximums. But I look 11 at everything about the case and you. And then I 12 look at what type of sentences I believe are 13 available and appropriate for your situation.

14 As part of that analysis I also look at you 15 and this offense in comparison to other situations 16 which we call similarly situated, meaning someone who 17 has violated the same law. Someone who has violated 18 a similar law. Someone with kind of a background, 19 history or characteristic of you. Basically someone 20 kind of in your position because I need to keep not 21 only my sentence just I need to keep them consistent 22 as possible over similarly situated offenses. Every 23 offense is different but there is and should be some 24 consistency in the Court imposing dispositions with 25 regard to like matters.

1 In looking at those things then, of course,
2 it is my objective to come up, as I indicated, with a 3 just sentence. And a just sentence, Ms. Heskett, is 4 a sentence that reflects the seriousness of what has 5 occurred, seriousness of the offense and promotes 6 respect for the law. Because I start out with a 7 rebuttable presumption that an individual who 8 violated the law, he or she, didn't understand how 9 serious a matter they were getting into and didn't 10 respect the law. So I am going to look to you and 11 Mr. Anderson to tell me where you are now. Have you 12 gained some appreciation for the seriousness of what 13 you have done, if the Court indeed finds that you 14 have committed this offense. And have you gained 15 some respect for the law, if indeed the Court finds 16 you have violated the law.

17 So I need to hear things about those items 18 in this disposition because if I don't hear that an 19 individual has gained some respect for the law and 20 appreciates the seriousness of what they have done
21 then I start worrying about a couple of other factors 22 in the disposition process and that is that person is 23 going to reoffend because they don't appreciate what 24 they have done. And they don't respect the law.

25 So what keeps them from reoffending. Do I

1 have to protect the public from them. And protect 2 the public means a lot more than just protecting the 3 public from a violent offense. Protecting the public 4 means all types of offenses.

5 So, as you can see it has got kind of a 6 thread. What happened, who you are. The types of 7 sentences that are available and types of sentences 8 that is appropriate to appreciate the seriousness of 9 what has been done, promote respect for the law so I 10 don't have to worry about someone reoffending and 11 protecting the public from that individual.

12 So that it is of a progression. I also 13 look, of course, at other things. Other things such 14 as is there any educational or vocational things that 15 might be part of a dispositional process that would 16 assist, help someone kind of going in a different 17 direction. Any kind of medical care. Any type of 18 correctional treatment that would be necessary 19 regardless of what type the disposition is. Whether 20 it is an incarceration or a none incarceration
21 disposition.

22 So, I look at all of those things. And all 23 of those things point me in a direction of coming up 24 with a just sentence, a sentence that meets the goals 25 of sentencing but not more than is necessary.

1 Do you have any questions about those 2 factors?

3 THE DEFENDANT: No.

4 THE COURT: Mr. Anderson, have you
5 talked to Ms. Heskett about the final factor of 6 disposition or the final factor of sentencing meaning 7 the advisory guideline?

8 MR. ANDERSON: I have, Your Honor.

9 THE COURT: Can you share with the 10 record your discussion, a summary of your discussions 11 with her and your belief of whether or not she 12 understands how they work generally and how it may 13 affect the Court's disposition process.

14 MR. ANDERSON: Judge, thank you.
15 Should her no contest plea result in a conviction the 16 sentencing guidelines would be applicable in 17 determining the advisory guideline range. We have 18 discussed how the advisory guidelines work in 19 general.

20 And specifically I made an estimate based 21 on what I believe would be readily provable by the 22 Government at a disposition. The guideline utilizes 23 2B1.1 the base offense level of six given the 24 statutory maximum penalty in this case.

25 Judge, I don't believe that there would be

1 a specific offense characteristic of loss amount 2 given the nature of the allegations and what could be 3 proven. I do believe however, Your Honor, in 4 estimating the guidelines there would be a two level
5 increase pursuant to the specific offense 6 characteristic of the number of victims involved in 7 the offense, more than then. That would be a two 8 level enhancement raising the offense level to eight.

9 Judge, I do believe based on the guideline
10 3B.13 which talks about abuse of position of trust 11 given her employment at the time with the United 12 States Postal Service I do believe a two level 13 enhancement is called for under the guideline raising 14 the offense level by an additional two points to a 15 ten.

16 I am unaware of any prior criminal history 17 that Ms. Heskett possesses. I do believe she would 18 be a Criminal History Category I, a total offense
19 level of ten, when matched with a Criminal History I 20 calls for an advisory sentencing guideline range of 21 six to twelve months which is in Zone B of the 22 sentencing guidelines.

23 Your Honor, this Court will make a 24 determination as to whether or not acceptance of 25 responsibility is warranted at the time of disposition.

1 Should that be the case that would reduce the offense
2 level of two to a net offense level of eight. That 3 would result in an advisory guideline range of zero to 4 six. That is actually in Zone A of the sentencing
5 guideline. And so there are two possible estimated 6 guideline ranges depending on how the Court would 7 adjudicate the issue of the acceptance of 8 responsibility.

9 Ms. Heskett understands those are advisory,
10 Judge, that those are a starting point for the Court.
11 She understands that the Court has complete discretion 12 in sentencing in this matter.

13 THE COURT: All right. Thank you.
14 Ms. Heskett, did you understand Mr. Anderson's 15 discussion and explanation of the factor being the 16 advisory guideline calculation?

17 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

18 THE COURT: And you understand that 19 although Mr. Anderson probably does this as much as 20 any other counsel in the Miami Valley and has gained 21 a great deal of expertise in this calculation and the 22 estimates that he makes, they can only be estimates
23 they can't be guarantees. And it is not a deficiency 24 with him. It is just the mere fact that I make the 25 final decision. Do you understand?

1 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

2 THE COURT: Understanding that, do
3 you have any questions about any of the factors of 4 sentencing including the guideline calculations or 5 any of the maximum sentences or dispositions that 6 could be imposed that we just talked about?

7 THE DEFENDANT: No.

8 THE COURT: Mr. Patel, have I left
9 anything out of disposition?

10 MR. PATEL: Not that I am aware of, 11 no, thank you.

12 THE COURT: Mr. Anderson.

13 MR. ANDERSON: No, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: Let's move onto just a 15 couple of other areas. You know that you don't have 16 to enter this plea of guilty. You can plead not 17 guilty and go to the trial. I am sorry. You don't 18 have to enter a plea of no contest. That shows you 19 how rarely we do this. No contest.

20 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, I understand.

21 THE COURT: You can continue to plead
22 not guilty or plead not guilty, continue to plead not 23 guilty and go to trial. If that was the case what we 24 would do is select a jury. We would put the burden 25 upon the Government to prove everything that they are

1 alleging against you beyond a reasonable doubt. You 2 don't have a burden. You wouldn't have to prove 3 anything. You wouldn't have to do anything. You 4 wouldn't have to say anything. It is up to them to 5 prove everything that they are alleging.

6 Now, even though you have no burden you 7 don't have to say or do anything. Mr. Anderson could 8 fully participate in the trial. And he could review 9 the Government's evidence, observe the Government's 10 evidence. He could cross examine the Government's 11 witnesses. If he had witnesses that he believed that 12 he could call in your case, he could call witnesses 13 on your behalf. If these people were hesitant to 14 appear in the Court I would compel them to at least 15 attend. He could argue your case to the jury.

16 If the jury did return a verdict or 17 verdicts against you you would have a right to appeal 18 that verdict or those verdicts to the Court of 19 Appeals.

20 Now that is a Constitutionally guaranteed
21 right that you have. It is your right. No one 22 elses. No one can take it from you. The Government 23 can't. The Court can't. No one can take it. But 24 you can give it up and by entering a no contest plea
25 you would be, as we have indicated entering a no

1 contest plea to the facts that have been read here
2 upon the record, you would be giving up that jury
3 trial process. Do you understand?

4 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

5 THE COURT: Understanding that, do
6 you still wish to go forward with your no contest 7 plea?

8 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

9 THE COURT: All right. Now,
10 Ms. Heskett, has anyone promised you anything in 11 return for your no contest plea?

12 THE DEFENDANT: No.

13 THE COURT: Is there anyone forcing 14 you, threatening you, compelling you to enter this no 15 contest plea against your will?

16 THE DEFENDANT: No.

17 THE COURT: This is your decision
18 after discussing it with counsel, this is what you 19 have decided and this decision is a voluntary 20 decision upon your part. Is that correct?

21 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

22 THE COURT: Have you had any kind of 23 drugs, alcohol or medication within the last 24 24 hours?

25 THE DEFENDANT: No.

1 THE COURT: So you are clear headed
2 here this afternoon. You know exactly what you are 3 doing. Is that correct?

4 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

5 THE COURT: Have you been able to 6 understand everything that I have said and everything
7 that Mr. Anderson and Mr. Patel has said here today
8 in Court?

9 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

10 THE COURT: Do you have any questions
11 about anything that has gone on here this afternoon 12 that we have not clearly explained or that you may 13 have a question about?

14 THE DEFENDANT: No.

15 THE COURT: Mr. Anderson, do you
16 consider Ms. Heskett competent to enter a plea of no 17 contest?

18 MR. ANDERSON: Yes, Your Honor, I do.

19 THE COURT: Is there anything
20 further. Anything, Mr. Patel, that I have left out?

21 MR. PATEL: I may have missed it, 22 Your Honor, and this may be a given since she's been 23 appointed counsel. But did the Court cover her right 24 to counsel, not just at trial but at all proceedings 25 as well.

1 THE COURT: Well, since she has
2 counsel sitting beside her. Have you had counsel the 3 entire time, Ms. Heskett?

4 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

5 THE COURT: And you have always been 6 represented throughout. Is that correct?

7 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

8 THE COURT: All right. Mr.
9 Anderson, anything else that we need to cover?

10 MR. ANDERSON: I don't believe so,
11 Judge, thank you.

12 THE COURT: Then, Ms. Heskett, it is 13 back to you. You have indicated that you have 14 understood everything that we have discussed. You 15 have understood all of the factors of sentencing, the 16 maximums that could be imposed. You have indicated 17 that you have fully understand and you have accepted 18 the factual statement that has been read upon the 19 record as the facts to which you wish to enter a no 20 contest plea so, are you ready to go forward with 21 your plea?

22 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

23 THE COURT: Do you understand the 24 facts that have been alleged by the Government and 25 have been read on to the record?

1 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

2 THE COURT: Ms. Heskett, how then do
3 you wish to plead to Count 1 of the indictment that 4 alleges a violation of delay or destruction of mail a 5 violation of 18 United States Code 1703(a).

6 THE DEFENDANT: No contest.

7 THE COURT: All right. The Court
8 would accept Ms. Heskett's plea of no contest and 9 would make also the following findings. The Court
10 finds that Ms. Heskett, after our discussions here 11 for 40 or 45 minutes, is in full possession of her
12 faculties and is competent to enter her no contest 13 plea. That she is not under any influence of 14 narcotics, hallucinogens, alcohol or medication.
15 That she understands the nature of the charge, Count 16 1 of the indictment to which she has pled no contest.

17 She understands also the penalties that are 18 provided by law for that violation if the Court 19 accepts her plea of no contest and subsequently makes 20 a finding of guilty. The Court also finds that she 21 understands all of her Constitutionally guaranteed
22 rights and processes and that by entering this plea
23 of no contest she is knowingly and intelligently 24 giving up those processes and those rights.

25 The Court finds based upon the reading of

1 the factual statement upon the record by Mr. Patel 2 that there is a factual basis for her plea. The 3 Court is going to order that that factual statement, 4 of course, be recorded in the record and be made a 5 part of the record.

6 The Court also finds that she has, again, 7 entered a no contest plea voluntarily because as she 8 has indicated this is a knowing and voluntary plea of 9 no contest that is a not being compelled, forced or 10 in any way not her own decision.

11 So therefore the Court does accept her plea
12 of no contest. And it will be made a permanent part 13 of the record in this case. The Court based upon her 14 plea of no contest and based upon the consideration 15 of the Court of the factual statement that has been 16 read upon the record by Mr. Patel and based upon the 17 acceptance of that factual statement as the statement 18 of facts to which she is pleading no contest, the 19 Court does find this Defendant, Leanna Heskett guilty
20 of delay or destruction of mail in violation of 18 21 United States Code 1703(A).

22 Now, Ms. Heskett I have accepted your plea 23 of no contest and based upon that plea and the 24 factual statement I have found you guilty of Count 1.
25 I am going to send this matter or refer the matter to

1 the probation department for a pre-sentence
2 investigation. They will issue a report and 3 recommendation to the Court with regard to any 4 disposition or sentence. And you will receive a copy 5 of that pre-sentence report and its recommendations.
6 Of course the Government will receive such report 7 too. You will have an opportunity to, as well the 8 Government, to respond, reply and/or object to any 9 portion of the pre-sentence report.

10 Now, if either you or the Government wish
11 to submit a sentencing memorandum -- any sentencing 12 memorandum filed by either side must be filed no 13 later than seven business days following the 14 investigative report being issued. If there is a 15 sentencing memorandum filed and counsel wishes to 16 file a motion or a response opposing that sentencing 17 memorandum, that must be filed no later than five 18 business days following the receipt of the sentencing 19 ing memorandum.

20 The Court then, after a review of those 21 memorandum and/or responses, replies or objections
22 finds that it is necessary for a hearing, the Court
23 would -- or a continuation of the disposition counsel 24 will be notified.

25 So, Ms. Heskett, what we are going to do

1 then we are going to set your matter for disposition
2 on Wednesday November 22 at 10:30.

3 Do you have any questions about anything
4 that the Court has done here this afternoon?

5 THE DEFENDANT: No, sir.

6 THE COURT: Anything, Mr. Anderson?

7 MR. ANDERSON: No, Your Honor. Thank
8 you.

9 THE COURT: Mr. Patel?

10 MR. PATEL: Nothing as far as the 11 plea, Your Honor. If we could speak about the 12 remaining counts.

13 THE COURT: Okay. You want to speak
14 for the record?

15 MR. PATEL: Yes, Your Honor.

16 THE COURT: You may.

17 MR. PATEL: I believe we would need 18 to set a trial date to protect the record. And we 19 ask that the appropriate speedy trial findings be 20 made from now until the new trial date. We would 21 simply ask for some time to consider our position as 22 to whether we will be seeking to dismiss the 23 remaining counts or asking for a trial. And we can 24 make that decision fairly quickly, Your Honor, and 25 advise the Court and counsel accordingly.

1 THE COURT: Do you have a speedy
2 trial calculation at this time?

3 MR. PATEL: Not at this time. I
4 don't believe much time has been used up because this 5 was set for a plea pretty early on. But out of an 6 abundance of caution I believe that if it was set for 7 30 days from now the Court could make an ends of 8 justice finding based upon the time that it has taken
9 to consider the plea as well as give the Government 10 time.

11 THE COURT: Why don't I do this. I
12 will set the trial date. Counsel will be notified.
13 I will set the trial date somewhere 30 and 45 days
14 out. We have a trial date of August 29th at 9:00
15 o'clock. And obviously, counsel, if for some reason 16 this matter doesn't resolve then the Court will 17 entertain, not pre-determining, any kind of a motion 18 that may be appropriate based upon this fairly quick 19 trial set. So, August 29th, 2016 at 9:00. The 20 sentencing however on Count 1 is November 22nd at 21 10:30.

22 MR. PATEL: Okay, Your Honor.

23 THE COURT: Thank you very much.

24 (Court recessed at 2:30)
